

HokieMart upgrade 12.2 will become effective July 22, 2012. The following enhancement is included in this upgrade.

IMPROVED NAVIGATION BETWEEN APPROVAL DOCUMENTS

Previously when accessing a document for approval, the approver was required to look at the documents one at a time from the approvals page. A new feature has been created so that the approver can open a document for approval and navigate between documents in the folder. See example below:

In addition to the next and previous link as shown above, a new option has been added to the available actions called Approve/Complete & Show Next. This option allows approvers to approve the current document they are viewing and immediately be taken to the next document in their approval queue. They can conveniently access their approval documents without having to navigate back to the approval page and selecting the next available document.

NOTE: This action is only available from the document, and if the document is already assigned to you.
